BRITISH STEAMER WHICH SENT S. S. S. FOUND UNDATED

Distress Call on Friday Sent U. S. Navy Into Speedy Action

Washington, March 2.—(AP)—The navy was advised today that naval planes had located the British steamer Southgate, which reported a submarine attack yesterday, and said the vessel was in no apparent danger.

The first news of the vessel's fate since her cryptic "S. S. S." signal late yesterday was contained in a brief wireless message from the Caribbean saying "Southgate located by planes, no apparent danger."

The navy was without immediate explanation as to why the 4,862-ton merchantman had flashed her "S. S. S."—"attacked by submarine"—but in San Juan, Puerto Rico, there was speculation that the appearance of a peaceable United States submarine near the freighter might have been mistaken for a German U-boat.

In dispatches from San Juan two United States undersea craft were reported to have been in the vicinity of the Southgate—about 130 miles northeast of Puerto Rico—when the wireless cracked out the message of alarm.

None Scheduled There
In Washington, however, officials checking this report said that no American submarines were scheduled to have been cruising there.

The terse report that all appeared to be well aboard the merchantman brought a feeling of relief to diplomatic officials here. They had been fearful that they had on hand another incident involving violation of the "safety zone" created by the Pan-American conference at Panama last September. The position given by the Southgate was well within the limits of the zone.

The navy withheld information on the position at which the Southgate was located. Officials said that to disclose it would be an unneutral act. The same procedure has been followed in making public reports in connection with other belligerent activity.

New York, March 2.—(AP)—A dynamic game of hide-and-seek between warships of warring nations apparently had been touched off today in American waters by near-simultaneous reports of a submarine attack on a British freighter near Puerto Rico and a British interception of a Nazi cargo carrier.

From the S. S. Southgate, a 4,862-ton vessel flying the Union Jack, came this ominous message last night:

"Attacked by submarine."

Ralph E. Church Has Answered All House Roll Calls

Washington, March 2.—(AP)—Representative Ralph E. Church of Illinois, who flew across the Atlantic ocean last year rather than break his five-year record of not having missed a house roll call since his election, resumed today his flying campaign for the Republican nomination as senator from Illinois.

Church, who claims his main ambition is to finish his third consecutive term in the house without having missed a single roll call, booked passage on a night plane for Chicago. He has been flying home every week end for more than a month, returning in time for the first roll-call each following Monday.

"I'm not going to miss a session just to look after my campaign," the 57-year-old Evanston lawyer said. "I plan to fly home every week end, in the meantime, conduct my campaign by telephoned radio programs from Washington."

Last year, when he was a delegate to the Interparliamentary Union convention at Oslo, Church refused to leave on the boat with other delegates because he would have had to miss a session of the house. Instead, he boarded a Clipper after sine die adjournment and caught up with the delegation at Oslo.

During the recess between the 1939 regular and special sessions,

Belgium Reports Plane Shot Down by German Ships

Brussels, March 2.—(AP)—One Belgian pursuit plane was shot down by a German bomber and four other planes were reported to have crashed in a series of air encounters and accidents today in which three Belgian fliers were killed.

Brussels, March 2.—(AP)—The Belgian government announced today that a Belgian plane had been shot down in an air fight between a number of German and Belgian planes over Belgian territory.

"A Belgian plane was shot down this afternoon during a battle between Belgian planes and German planes," said a brief communication. "Another communication will be issued tonight."

Earlier reports from the frontier region said the Belgian plane crashed near Bastogne, three miles from the Belgium-Luxembourg border, and its occupants were burned to death.

Government officials viewed the incident, the first of its kind since the war started, in a serious light. The number of Belgian dead was unknown, but one report said that three Belgian pursuit ships had been attacked by German DO-73 bombers and that two Belgian airmen had been seen parachuting to earth. The German planes disappeared unharmed.

Shortly after the government's announcement the German ambassador arrived at the foreign office to seek an interview with Spaak, who was absent, was said.

The ambassador, Vicco Karl von Buelow-Schwante, conferred 10 minutes with Spaak after a 45-minute wait. He appeared pale and disturbed as he left hurriedly for the embassy.

Ex-Wife Will Receive $115,000 and Children From Son of the President

Los Angeles, March 2.—(AP)—Under a divorce settlement between Cushing Roosevelt will receive $115,000 from James Roosevelt, eldest son of the president.

A default decree is scheduled to be entered in Judge Thomas C. Gould's court Monday. It might have been recorded yesterday but for the sudden illness of Mrs. Roosevelt's brother, Howard K. Cushing, who was to have been her corroborating witness. After accompanying her here from the east he was stricken with influenza.

Mrs. Roosevelt, in a hushed voice, told the court her movie producer-husband had first asked her for a divorce in Washington almost two years ago.

"I refused to give him a divorce at that time," she said.

Under terms of the settlement introduced in court it was disclosed that Mrs. Roosevelt received a flat sum of $65,000 yesterday,

SAYS GOVERNOR CAN'T DELEGATE HIS AUTHORITY

Certifying Board Meets To Hear Protests on Petitions

BULLETIN
Springfield, Ill., March 2.—(AP)—The state election certifying board today decided to place President Roosevelt's name on the Democratic presidential preference ballot in Illinois.

The three member board rejected protests that Roosevelt's name should not go on the ballot on the ground that the customary signed statement of candidacy did not accompany the nominating petitions for the April 9 primary. The board ruled a statement was "not required."

Springfield, Ill., March 2.—(AP)—Lieut. Gov. John Stelle challenged the legality of the state election certifying board today because Governor Horner was represented by proxy but asserted he had "no intention of taking advantage of the governor's disability" and assuming control as acting governor.

Stelle, who is fighting the Horner-Kelly-Nash organization as a "rebel" candidate for governor, declared any act of the certifying board "would be a nullity" after Horner, who is ill, failed to appear and was represented by his executive assistant, Alexander Wilson.

Rumors that Stelle might immediately invoke the "disability clause" of the state constitution and become acting governor were dissipated when the lieutenant governor told the board he had no intention of "acting under the Constitution."

The certifying board, which includes Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes and State Auditor Edward J. Barrett, met to certify nominating petitions for the April 9 primary and to act on protests against including President Roosevelt's name on the Democratic preferential primary.

Demands Written Briefs
The board refused to listen to oral arguments either for or against legality of the Roosevelt petitions, which were presented without the customary signed statement of candidacy, and directed anyone wanting to be heard to submit written briefs.

State's Attorney Charles E. Mason of Lake county and George S. Lavin of Chicago, Republican candidate for congressman-at-large, appeared to protest against the petitions because the candidacy statement was omitted but were instructed to file briefs. Arthur A. Sullivan, attorney for the Cook county Democratic committee, appeared to defend the legality of the petitions but also was directed to file briefs.

Hughes said the board would decide later "whether we will take jurisdiction" and act on the objections.

Stelle opened his objection to the governor's representative on the certifying board when Wilson appeared.

"By what authority is Mr. Wilson here for the governor?" Stelle inquired.

"At the request of the governor—his secretary asked me to

Old Bell Rings

Urbana, Ill., Mar. 2.—(AP)—The old bell which for 65 years swung in its belfry atop old University Hall today rang a greeting from its new location in the belfry of the Illinois Union.

It was the 72nd birthday anniversary of the University of Illinois and the bell tolled 72 times. Two years ago the bell was rung for the last time, prior to today, when it rang a requiem for the old hall which even then was in the hands of the wreckers and condemned.

The new building, only a few yards from the old one, will be a center for the alumni and thousands of students.

Just before the bell was rung, President Arthur Cutts Willard observed the annual custom of laying a wreath on the grave of the university's first leader, Regent John Milton Gregory, who is buried on the campus.

BATTLE

London, March 2.—(AP)—The air ministry announced tonight that British air force aviators shot down two enemy aircraft today, a Dornier bomber which fell in France and a Messerschmitt which fell behind the German lines.

Helsinki, March 2.—(AP)—The red army hammered loudly today at the gates of Viipuri, with battle raging in the outskirts of that shell-ravaged city which is the key to the Karelian isthmus.

(A Soviet communique said the Finns were burning the city as they fell back and that the Russians already were in the southern suburbs.)

The Finns themselves acknowledged that after three months of war, including a month of sustained assault against this objective, the Russians were moving on Viipuri from the south and east by land and from the southwest over the island-dotted ice of Viipuri bay.

Russian losses continued to be heavy, the Finns said in fighting along the entire isthmus front from the edge of Viipuri on the west to the fortress of Taipale on the east. Taipale, on the Lake Ladoga shore, is holding fast, despite one of the war's heaviest aerial bombardments, they said.

DRIVER HIDES CHILD VICTIM

Walter H. Bradshaw, left, Chicago motorist, traced by witness who took license number, confessed he took 5 year old Beverly Joan Frank, right, into auto after hitting her with car, then hid her, dying, under tarpaulin in his garage. He is held for manslaughter.

Driver of Death- Dealing Car Will Face Grand Jury

Chicago, March 2.—(AP)—A coroner's jury recommended yesterday that Walter H. Bradshaw be held to the grand jury on a manslaughter charge for the death of a five-year-old girl killed by his automobile.

The body of Beverly Joan Frank was found in Bradshaw's garage three hours after the fatal accident. He told the jury he thought the child was dead and so did not take her to a hospital.

Bradshaw said he was driving to his meat market with a load of fish when the accident occurred.

"I wanted to get the fish to the store before taking the girl to the hospital," he testified, adding that he changed his mind later and took the child to the garage on the assumption that she was dead.

A witness to the accident provided the police the license number of the car. Bradshaw's arrest followed.

Probe Report of
Effort to "Fix"
State Witnesses
Chicago, March 2.—(AP)—State's Attorney's officials today investigated a report by Chief Justice John Prystalski that $1,600 had been placed in escrow to prevent the identification of Ernest Sansone, 36, who is wanted in Racine, Wis., on charges of assault with intent to rob.

Judge Prystalski disclosed his information of the alleged bribery plot at a habeas corpus hearing yesterday in which Sansone was fighting extradition to Racine. He continued the hearing until March 8 and ordered an investigation.

Sansone is charged with being one of five men who stole four slot machines containing $250 from the Meadowbrook Country club, near Racine, last September.

Morris Meyers, assistant state's attorney, said that Herman Lynch, manager of the club, had told him that he had been solicited three times in the past few days to aid in the "fixing" of the state witnesses. One offer of $500 and two of $1,000 were made "if

Lawyer Avoids Exposure by His Plea of Guilty

Oklahoma City, March 2.—(AP)—Orban C. Patterson, a criminal lawyer described by the government as a city racket boss, was sentenced today to serve five years in prison and pay a $5,000 fine for federal income tax evasion.

His trial on charges of failure to pay income tax on an estimated income of $89,164 from 1932 to 1934 was halted by the defendant's plea of nolo contendere after one government witness had been introduced.

Before sentence was passed, U. S. District Attorney Charles E. Dierker informed the court that had Patterson's trial been completed, the government would have shown him to be a court "fixer" and the king of vast illegal whiskey and vice rackets.

In Open Revolt

Baton Rouge, La., Mar. 2.—(AP)—Governor Earl K. Long's second effort to convene a special session of his hitherto obedient legislature failed today when the legislators in open revolt against the repudiated state machine, failed to report a quorum in the senate.

Only 13 of 39 senators were present at roll call nearly an hour after the body had been called to meet.

Senators immediately quit the chamber and Coleman Lindsay president, said "there can be no session because there is no quorum."

Long suffered his second blow of the day when the Democratic state central committee withdrew his nomination for secretary of state.

The committee had nominated him to fill the place of Secretary of State E. A. Conway, Sr., who died Feb. 19.

The committee today nominated James Grenillion, a supporter of Governor-designate Sam Jones, in Long's place.

Courts Have Finished With Big-Shot Racketeer and No One Gets Excited

New York, March 2.—(AP)—The courts have finished with big-shot racketeer Louis (Lepke) Buchalter.

Early today, a General Sessions jury found him guilty on 15 counts of extorting $50,000 in a trucking racket. He's a fourth offender, and thus faces a life sentence, but nobody got excited, certainly not Buchalter. He didn't bat an eyelash.

He stopped batting eyelashes long before this anti-climax, long before the government handed him a 14-year sentence recently for smuggling narcotics all over the world.

Convicted with him today on all 15 extortion counts was Max

ITS RECOGNITION BY ALLIES PART OF PEACE PRICE

Return of Colonies Also Essential, Fuehrer Tells Welles

Berlin, March 1.—(AP)—Germany will fight until Britain and France recognize a "German Monroe Doctrine for central Europe" and restore her war-lost colonies—this was described by sources who know Adolf Hitler's mind as the burden of the message he delivered today to President Roosevelt's emissary, Sumner Welles.

Another point in the message given by the fuhrer to the American undersecretary of state in their 94-minute conference in the chancellery was understood to be that England must renounce "her stranglehold control" of the strategic lanes to the world's raw materials.

Germany's price of peace, according to this version of Hitler's declaration, includes permanent German hegemony—political domination—over Bohemia-Moravia, Slovakia, Poland and Hungary, making the reich proper a solid bloc of about 130,000,000 population.

Furthermore, it was said, he wanted guarantees that Britain and France would not stir up the Balkans or Scandinavia.

Hitler was said to have argued further that disarmament must begin by England's relinquishing military control of Gibraltar, the Suez canal and other strategic points held in the midst of non-British territories.

Nine Democratic Officials Facing Charge of Fraud

Springfield, Ill., March 2.—(AP)—Nine Democratic state officials were charged with fraud in connection with party campaign fund collections today in a second suit filed in Sangamon county Circuit court by a state highway policeman.

The complainant, Policeman Sylvester Steskal of Springfield, added the fraud charge in a supplemental suit seeking to tie up Democratic campaign funds held by the Illinoisans, an agency to collect campaign assessments from state employees.

Circuit Judge L. E. Stone immediately granted a temporary injunction to hold intact all funds of the Illinoisans until a hearing is held on the accounting suit.

Judge Stone last Monday approved Steskal's petition to tie up funds of the defunct Iroquois Illinois League, which was dissolved when the Illinoisans was established. The supplemental suit today asked an accounting of the Illinoisans' funds and a temporary injunction to tie up the funds.

Same Defendants

The complaint today charged the nine officials in 1938, when the Illinois League was dissolved, "entered into a conspiracy for the purpose of wrongfully and fraudulently" taking over the funds.

Steskal named the same defendants in both suits. They were State Finance Director Samuel L. Nudelman; Public Works Director

Council Lets Garbage Contract to C. Martin

Mayor William V. Slothower told members of the city commission last evening that representatives of about 15 cities and towns, members of the Illinois Municipal League, have indicated they will be in attendance at the league district meeting to be held in the city hall in Dixon Thursday evening of next week. The entire membership of the councils of some cities have indicated they will attend the session. Officers of the League will be present to discuss proposed legislation affecting cities, towns and villages of the state and discussions will be held upon several subjects.

The only activity aside from the reading of the minutes of the council's session last evening was the awarding of a contract to Clarence Martin to purchase the garbage from the city during the coming summer, the consideration being $35. Martin's bid was the only one submitted for the purchase of garbage.

Careless Drivers on S. River St. Warned

Commissioner Carl Newman today issued warning to drivers of trucks and automobiles on East River street, where great damage is being done to the sod which was placed between the street and the east parking space last summer. Drivers have disregarded the street border and have driven on the sidewalk along the north side of the switch tracks and onto the grass plot, cutting deep furrows in the sod.

Precautions have been taken to assure a luxuriant growth of grass separating the east parking space and River street this spring, and in warning drivers, Commissioner Newman has indicated that offenders will be arrested and fined in police court.

Silverman, who may be sentenced to 15 to 30 years. Harold Silverman, the latter's son, was convicted on seven counts, with a possible 7½ to 15 years prison term. The state said thousands of dollars had been paid to the Buchalter ring by intimidated bakers and flour truckmen.

Last January, the government released him to stand trial in General Sessions for extortion, but it said the state sentence could be served only after the convicted racketeer had completed his federal term.

So there's just the matter of another sentence now; that comes March 13.

The Mt. Morris team, dogged by a persistent Lee Center quintet, had a narrow squeak in the nightcap with a 14 to 11 victory over Herbert Blodgett's Lee county boys, one of the best to come out of the village in many a moon.

The Mounders scored a 4 to 2 lead in the first period and the insistent Lee Center team knotted the count at 8-all by half time.

to be impossible so long as Washington declines to name an ambassador for the now-vacant post in the Berlin embassy.

Welles, accompanied by Alexander C. Kirk, United States charge d'affaires, both in formal morning clothes, entered Hitler's chancellery at 10:53 A. M., CST.)

A company of honor saluted Welles, which nazis said was an unusual honor for one not a state visitor. At 11 o'clock the Americans began their meeting with the nazi chieftain, who was supported by Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop.

Informed persons said the uncompromising, aggressive fuhrer, with American illustrations ever at hand, asked Welles what the United States would do if, say, some Asiatic or European power tried to stir up trouble in Mexico. It was not disclosed whether Welles replied.

Hitler's Thesis

Hitler's thesis was said to be that the seas never can be considered free as long as Britain has military control of all the important trade lanes of Europe and Asia, and can at any time choke off aspiring young nations such as fascist Italy and nazi Germany.

In this connection, Hitler was said to have asked Welles how the United States would like for some non-American power to have control of the Panama Canal. Hitler was reported to have lived up to a reputation for adapting himself to the psychology of the person with whom he confers while at the same time defending Germany's position aggressively.

His argument was said to have run to this effect:

Trend of Argument

Just as the United States, largest and most powerful nation of the western hemisphere, has assumed obligations for all of America so far as interference from European or Asiatic powers is concerned, so Germany considers it her moral obligation to see that central European living space be guaranteed once and for all from the interference of Britain and France.

Hitler reportedly insisted that German colonies be returned, and at the same time impressed on Welles that he considers Germany unbeatable economically in the war with Britain and France because of the German arrangements with the soviet union.

Nevertheless, he was described as emphasizing that Germany still wants her colonies as a matter of justice and as a means of enjoying life's amenities—in other words, the use of tropical products of such colonies.

On the question of disarmament, the fuhrer's view was described reliably as being that, first, such British fortresses as Gibraltar, Malta and Singapore must be dismantled.

Such spots as these are regarded by Germany as "pirate hang-outs", it was said.

In the early part of the 19th century, life insurance was attacked as sinful, on the grounds that no one should gamble about the possibility or time of death.

Five Perish in Apartment Fire in Massachusetts

Worcester, Mass., March 2 — (AP)—Four women and a man perished early today in a three-alarm blaze which destroyed a five-story apartment building in the heart of the city.

Firemen struggled for two hours before bringing the gushing flames under control. A few minutes after the bodies of the dead were taken from the top floor, the roof collapsed.

The bodies, burned almost beyond recognition, were identified by the Misses Tora A. Jean E., and Rena D. Nordstrom, sisters who were widely known in central Massachusetts as musicians; Miss Anna H. Hydock, and George D. Thompson, a Worcester restaurant proprietor.

State Fire Inspector James A. Traynor said there was "every indication the fire was set". Three previous incendiary fires occurred in the same block last month and police began a hunt for a pyromaniac.

THIRD FIRE VICTIM

Centralia, Ill.—(AP)—Leon Grace, 38, died here yesterday, third victim of a fire caused by a kerosene explosion at his apartment in Salem last Dec. 1. His wife and daughter were fatally burned.

BUDGET APPROVED

Chicago—(AP)—Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe yesterday approved the 1940 improvement budget of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific Railroad totaling more than $8,000,000.

President Holds To View Canal's Defense Is Weak

Aboard Roosevelt train en route to Washington, March 2—(AP)—President Roosevelt rode toward the national capital today ready to begin blueprinting additional defenses for the Panama Canal.

He was prepared to pick up again the White House duties he had dropped for a 15-day cruise on which fishing was subordinated to a minute inspection of those defenses.

He brought back from his 4,000-mile voyage a definite idea that the number of airplanes and anti-aircraft guns already at the canal must be doubled and that a third set of canal locks was essential.

Shaping up, therefore, was a scrap with congress for legislation to strengthen the navy's lifeline between the Atlantic and Pacific.

The house appropriations committee has slashed from the war department's civil functions appropriation bill a $15,000,000 fund and a $99,300,000 contract authorization recommended by the president to permit a start on a new set of canal locks costing $277,000,000.

The number of aircraft and anti-aircraft guns already in the Canal Zone is a military secret.

The president is counting on cooperation of other Latin American nations in case the canal ever is jeopardized. The critical defense zone, as he sees it, extends east halfway across the Caribbean, west into the Pacific 600 miles, north of Guatemala and south to Ecuador, Colombia and Venezuela.

Upon his return to Washington, one of his first acts will be to sign a bill which would allow Finland to obtain a $20,000,000 loan for non-military purposes.

Activities of Dixon Church Societies

W. C. T. U.—Mrs. W. H. Bush-ey, 513 Third street, will be hostess to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. "Juvenile Protection" is to be the afternoon's topic.

Amoma Class—Mrs. E. B. Ryan and Mrs. Claude Whitlow were co-hostesses to the Amoma class of the Baptist Sunday school Thursday evening at the Ryan home. The business meeting was followed by games suggested by Mrs. Curtis Pittman, with prizes going to Mrs. Olive Bradford, Mrs. John Nelles and Mrs. Ryan. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Joint Meeting—St. Anne's Guild and study club will hold a joint meeting on Monday evening. The business session will be followed by a discussion to be presented by Mrs. Edward Langan, explaining Holy Saturday church services.

The committee has prepared a special program, in keeping with the Lenten season.

Annarians—Annarians are to meet in St. Anne's study hall at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Plans for Sheridan Boys' Building O. K.

Springfield, Ill., March 2—(AP)—Plans for a two-story brick building to house 60 "incorrigible" boys at a branch of the St. Charles school for boys to be established near Sheridan were approved late yesterday by the Gunning legislative committee.

The committee named a sub-committee of five to set specifications and take bids on the building, the first of a building program which may be expanded in time to house 1,500.

Named to the committee were Senator Thomas P. Gunning of Princeton, chairman, Public Welfare Director A. L. Bowen; William Harmon, managing officer of the St. Charles School; Dr. Paul Schroeder, state criminologist, and Rep. Maud Peppers of Aurora.

The first White House was built in 1792 to 1799 and was first occupied by John Adams in 1800. It was destroyed by the British in 1814, but was rebuilt in 1818.

Ralph E. Church--

Church underwent at Chicago an operation for an old ailment. The special session call found him in the hospital, but rather than miss the opening roll-call he came to Washington on a special stretcher and answered the roll-call from an invalid chair.

Opens Campaign

He opened his campaign last night with a speech criticizing the new deal for adopting "a policy of defeatism and despair" which is incompatible with "vigorous Americanism."

"We definitely know now that the new deal policy is not one of hope and liberalism, designed to stimulate an expanding economy and create a still greater America," he said.

"Whatever may be said for its social ventures, the new deal has based its entire economic policy on the assumption that America has all grown up, that it isn't going to grow any more."

"That is a policy of defeatism and despair."

The Evanston congressman delivered the address by radio over an Illinois hookup of 18 stations. He said he would speak by radio every Wednesday night through April 3 and on Friday, April 5, and Monday, April 8.

Church said he had no quarrel with the "professed" objective of the new deal as stated by President Roosevelt on June 10, 1935.

Only "Professed" Objective

At that time, Church said, the president declared the objective "is to try to increase the security and happiness of a larger number of people in all occupations of life and in all parts of the country... to give honest business a chance to go ahead, make a reasonable profit and to give every one a chance to earn a living."

He contended that that was only the "professed" objective; that "there is every indication that the claimed objective is farther and farther away."

"In the last seven years," he said, "the federal government has extended its activities not only in fields which it previously occupied, but into new and untried fields—previously reserved for private enterprise, for state governments and for local communities."

Indeed, under the present leadership, the federal government controls not only the general conditions of our economic life through currency manipulation, price manipulation and credit manipulation but also the very manner in which business and agriculture shall be carried on."

Violinist, Singer, Coming to Dixon in Joint Program

The Wagnerian aria "O Thou Sublime, Sweet Evening Star" from Tannhauser will be sung by John Neher, bass-baritone, and the Spanish Symphony by Lalo will be included on the program of his co-artist, David Moll, violinist, when the two young Chicagoans appear in concert in the Dixon high school auditorium Monday evening, March 11, under auspices of the Dixon Concert League.

Mr. Moll's repertoire for his Dixon appearance is also to include Lensky's aria from "Eugene Onegin." Both musicians will present two groups of numbers, with Clara Siegel playing their piano accompaniments.

A good memory is a valuable attribute for a performing artist who must play a great deal of music by heart, and Mr. Moll, who is a member of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, is fortunate in possessing a near-phenomenal memory for music. As a student, when 13 years of age, he heard a member of his class, one of the older students, play the Grand Concerto No. 4 by Henri Viennemps, a long and difficult work. When the older student had concluded the number, the younger violinist volunteered to play the entire selection from memory, without having glanced at the music.

This gift of easily remembering music is of great assistance to Mr. Moll, as he is continually enlarging his repertoire.

Mr. Neher colors his music beautifully. His most spectacular endowment, however, is the ability to sing humorous music successfully. He is able to build up an infectious rhythm, which adds immeasurably to the colorful effects of the songs he sings.

SCHOOL PARTY

Students of the Burkett school and their teacher, Miss Goldie Gigous, were happily surprised Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Edwin Barlow and her twin son and daughter, Junior and Helen, arrived at the school with a birthday lunch of ice cream and cake, honoring Lois Barlow's birthday anniversary of Feb. 29. Balloons were favors for the group.

FLOWER SHOW TICKETS

All those interested in attending the Chicago Flower show, to be held at the Navy Pier from March 30 to April 7, are reminded that tickets may be purchased at a saving at the Telegraph office. Tickets purchased at this office are priced at fifty cents; those at the Navy Pier will cost seventy-five cents.

NELSON UNIT

Nelson Home Bureau unit has been invited to the home of Mrs. Charles Littrel for an all-day meeting on Tuesday.

Wed 55 Years

Mr. and Mrs. James McGlaughlin of Eldena, pictured above, were married 55 years ago March 4 at Oregon. The couple have four children, Mrs. Henry Shippert of Dixon, Mrs. L. C. Glessner of Eldena, Miss Shirley McGlaughlin and Glenn McGlaughlin of Aurora. There are also six grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

Announce Fisco-Stevick Nuptials

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Dorothy Stevick, daughter of the Earl Stevicks of Buckeye street, Miamisburg, Ohio, and Melvin L. Fisco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fisco of Franklin Grove, Thursday evening, Feb. 15, at the First Reformed church in Miamisburg. The single ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. H. Grady Shoffner.

Palms and ferns and lighted candles in seven-branch candelabra were used in decorating the church for the ceremony. A program of nuptial music preceded the rites.

The bride's only attendant was her cousin, Mrs. Paul Stevick of Miamisburg. Miss Stevick, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white tulle, designed with a fitted bodice, long sleeves, and full skirt. Her fingertip veil was held in place by orange blossoms, and she carried Kilmare roses.

Vernon Wilson of Mt. Morris was his cousin's best man.

A reception for 75 guests was held in the church parlors. White tapers, and a three-tiered wedding cake, decorated the table.

Mrs. Fisco was graduated from Miamisburg high school and from Miami-Jacobs Business college, Dayton, Ohio. The bridegroom, a graduate of Dixon high school, later attended Manchester college, and is now associated with the National Life and Accident Insurance company of Dayton.

The couple will reside at 333 Salem avenue, Department 9, Dayton, Ohio.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Six members of the Musico club met at the home of Miss Rose Rudolph last evening for a surprise celebration of her birthday anniversary. A scramble dinner was followed by games of Music.

BALDWIN AUXILIARY

Baldwin Auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans, will meet in G. A. R. hall at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Travel Club Will Hear Lecture on Greece and Isles

Glimpses of country life on the island of Crete and other islands of the Mediterranean, which are a closed book to the majority of American tourists, will be of special interest in the travelogue, "Adventuring Through Greece," which Miss Ellen du Poy, Chicago lecturer, writer, and traveler, will present Thursday evening for members of the Foreign Travel club. Mrs. H. A. Lazier of 203 East McKinney, a former classmate of Miss du Poy at Northwestern university in Evanston, and Dr. Lazier will be entertaining the club members.

Miss du Poy resided in Greece for six years, before returning to the United States last March. She spent two summers on the island of Crete, making a study of the rural customs there and also in Greece. She also is familiar with Athens and the surrounding countryside.

Since returning to this country, Miss du Poy has been in constant demand as guest lecturer for numerous women's clubs, civic and college groups in and about Chicago. She is the author of two novels, "One Crystal and a Mother" and "Towers Along the Grass," both published by Harper's in this country and by Heinemann in England, and has contributed stories to "Harper's Magazine," "The American Mercury," "Cosmopolitan," and "The Trans-Atlantic Review."

While in Greece, several of the writer's stories were translated into Greek and were published in a Greek magazine. She has written book reviews for a Chicago newspaper, and numerous articles on Gertrude Stein and her work.

While abroad, Miss du Poy met many writers, including Rebecca West, G. S. Eliot, Ezra Pound, James Joyce, H. G. Wells, Ernest Hemingway, and a number of Greek writers and poets. She made a special study of the link between Greek art and nature, and became acquainted with the intellectual circles of both Athens and Paris.

"AMATEUR HOUR"

A miniature "Amateur Hour," with the school's own student council acting as the jury of judges, is being planned for a general assembly program to be presented on Friday afternoon, March 15, at the Lincoln grade school. Try-outs for the entertainment will be held at 3:15 p. m. Monday in the school gymnasium.

Miss Marjorie Crandall and Mrs. Mary Riordan are in charge of arrangements.

SCHOOL EXHIBIT

A display of Borden products, representing one of Dixon's home industries, is occupying the first-floor exhibit case at the Lincoln grade school. Cheese and butter cartons, boxes of candy, and cans of milk are included in the show, which will remain on view throughout next week.

Don Clark's seventh grade students arranged the display.

ROCHELLE SPEAKER

Frank I. Johnson, an artist member of the Rockford Art association and well-known portrait painter, will address the Rochelle Art club at its annual Guest Day program on Tuesday. The meeting will be held in the library club room at Rochelle.

SCOUT COUNCIL

Members of the Dixon Girl Scout Council will meet at the home of their commissioner, Mrs. W. A. McNichols, at 9:15 a. m. Monday.

Eshelman-Fisher Rites Are Read

Miss Lucille Fisher, daughter of Mrs. Mabel Fisher, and Eugene Eshelman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elven Eshelman, were married Wednesday evening at the home of the bridegroom's parents, 1209 Walnut avenue. Dr. F. L. Blewfield, pastor of the Methodist church, read the vows, in the presence of about 50 relatives and friends.

A bouquet of carnations decorated either side of the wide open doorway of the home, and hanging baskets contained streamers of forget-me-nots and ferns. Miss Rose Kinn and George Shuck attended the couple.

The bride was wearing a floor-length gown of white taffeta, with a veil of white net. Her bouquet contained white and pink carnations. Miss Kinn chose a gold satin gown with matching accessories, and carried jonquils.

The little flower girl, Beverly Kinn, was dressed in pink and blue taffeta. She preceded the bride, scattering rose and carnation petals from her tiny basket.

Charles Nicklaus, the ring bearer, wore a black and white satin suit and carried the ring on a satin pillow.

Mrs. Fisher wore blue crepe for her daughter's wedding, and Mrs. Eshelman chose blue net over taffeta. Their shoulder corsages contained red carnations.

A buffet supper followed the ceremony. Mrs. Reuben Baker, the bridegroom's aunt, baked the wedding cake, and the ice cream molds of white roses were made by the bridegroom's father.

On Thursday evening, the couple was honored at a shower and dance in the Woodman hall. Mrs. Mabel Nagle and son son furnished music for that party-goers, numbering about 100.

Mrs. Eshelman formerly attended the Shillburg, Wis., schools. The bridegroom, a graduate of Dixon high school with the class of '39, is a mechanic at Bill Lee's service station.

After a brief wedding trip through Wisconsin, the couple will be at home with the bridegroom's parents.

TO GIVE OPERETTA

DRILL TEAM GIVES PARTY

Mrs. Carrie Coe, retiring worthy high priestess of Corinthian shrine, White Shrine of Jerusalem, was the special guest at a scramble dinner arranged in her honor Wednesday evening by members of the drill team. About 25 members attended the affair, held in the Masonic temple.

Tables were formed for bridge games, following the dinner. Mrs. Mamie Segner, the team manager, and Mrs. Lucille Hubbell were instigators of the party, and after the group presented a gift package to the guest of honor, Mrs. Segner was given a compact in honor of her birthday anniversary.

DOROTHY CHAPTER HAS INITIATION

The initiatory ritual of Dorothy chapter, No. 371, O. E. S., was exemplified last evening for two candidates, Mrs. Ethel Kientz and Mrs. Helen Tavenner at Brinton Memorial Masonic temple. Mrs. Emmert, the worthy matron, presided.

Refreshments were served to about 60 members, following the chapter session. Mrs. Mabel Santelman headed the hostess committee.

READING CIRCLE

Picturization of Evening Glamour

Ionian Singers Will Appear in Freeport Concert

The Ionian Singers, male quartet, will be heard in concert at Consistory auditorium on Friday evening, in the second program of the eighth annual series of concerts sponsored by the Freeport Co-operative Community Concert association.

This organization, which has won praise from musical critics throughout the country, has compiled its repertoire from the original works of Palestrina, Vittori, von Hasler, Bach, Schumann, Schubert, Morley, Bennett, Saint-Saens, Cui Sibelius and other great composers — including the best of folksong, chantey, modrigal and glee.

A number of Dixon Concert League members are planning to attend, a reciprocity arrangement having been established between the Freeport and Dixon organizations, which entitles ticket-holders to attend both series of programs.

The Redingote is a headliner. In silk or wool or a combination of both, it is a favorite with the young and slim and the mature

MARCH BRIDE-ELECT IS FETED AT ERIE PARTY

Miss Ruth Kennedy of Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy of Erie, whose marriage to Elwin Martin, elder son of the Jesse Martins of 413 Bradshaw, on March 23, was complimented at a pre-nuptial shower last evening at the home of Mrs. Alice Kirkland in Erie. Mrs. M. E. Hendwood of Dixon and Miss Florence Heller of Erie were co-hostesses.

Contests were diversion for the 16 guests, with refreshments following. Gift packages for a variety shower were presented to the honoree.

With short jackets, especially boxy boleros, box-pleated, gored and circular skirts are widely used this spring. When the jacket is long, however, the skirt usually is slim. It's also slim when the jacket is bloused. Skirt lengths remain the same—from 14 to 17 inches from the floor. The bloused silhouette, incidentally, is prevalent in suits as well as dresses, coats and dinner gowns. And it invariably makes waistline and hips seem smaller than they actually are.

P-T. A. Elects Officers; Gives Members' Program

Members of the Stony Point Parent-Teacher association elected officers at their monthly meeting last evening. Those named were:

President, Mrs. Donald Bay; vice president, Edward Stanley; secretary, Mrs. Joseph Hink; assistant secretary, Mrs. Mike Jurechka; treasurer, Mrs. Elliott Risley.

A special program was presented by the association members, including: President's message, Mrs. Elliott Risley; piano solo, Tommy Lynn Stanley; article, "Do You Just Belong," Mrs. Edward Stanley; impersonation of Kate Smith and vocal solos, Mrs. Coral Lambert; vocal trio, Mrs. John Stanley, Jr., Clair Selover, and Lyle Selover.

Debate, sixth grade; accordion selections, Charlotte Emmert; sketch, "Snookie," Mrs. Asa Fore, Mrs. Donald Bay, and Mrs. Joe Hink; readings, Mrs. John Stanley, Sr.; vocal solos with guitar accompaniment, Lyle Selover; readings, Mrs. Swen Gibson; chalk talk, Miss MayBel Stanley; piano solo, Patricia Risley; Virginia reel, Betty Lane; Gerald Hink, Lois Munselle, Melvin Jacobs, Delilah Laidig, Lola Belle Siders, Jo Ann Risley, and Ida Marie Fore.

Refreshments were served by the social committee.

BRIDGE-LUNCHEON

Mrs. H. R. Gardner arranged luncheon and bridge for 16 guests yesterday, entertaining at her home on Galena avenue. Jonquils and tulips trimmed the tables for luncheon.

Those receiving score favors in the contract games were Mrs. Arnold Schultz, Miss Lora Quick, and Mrs. D. A. Branigan.

MONTHLY MEETING

Board members of the Dixon Woman's club have changed their monthly meeting from Monday to Tuesday evening, when Mrs. L. E. Dunkelberger will entertain at 7:30 o'clock.

Navy blue is the favorite this spring, as always. But gray, black, golden beige and green, in the order named, are close runners-up. Fairly smooth tweeds for town as well as country continue to be popular. Twill—a material your grandmother loved—is featured. In all collections, smooth-finish wools seem to vie with the rough-textured ones. Plaids and checks have a prominent position.

Touches of white pique are used lavishly on two-piece suits this season, and on dresses with matching jackets. Lapel gadgets and floral boutonnieres retain their popularity.

First American church believed to be equipped with an organ was Gloria Dei, a Swedish mission located near Philadelphia.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Advertising Is Universal

In a recent debate over the radio on the topic of government ownership of railroads, one speaker criticized railroad management on the ground that during the depression railroads spent money for advertising. That, he concluded, was evidence that present management spends its money unwisely.

The debate itself was conducted by, or with the aid of, a law school which was mentioned prominently in the program, and thereby obtained this benefit of that advertising.

We mention the incident because there is a tendency among New Deal circles to charge that advertising costs are a questionable item of expense. Just why the new dealers should display such tender solicitude toward business is an angle with which we shall not deal in this essay. We want to point out that advertising is universal and necessary in a world where, whether we like it or not, competition rules.

To get back to the railroads, time was when they were a transportation monopoly for both freight and passenger traffic, and still, in those days, the railroads advertised. They did it because they wished to build up more business for monopolies, then it became even better business to advertise so as to compete with such public carriers as waterways, air lines and bus lines after the monopoly ceased to exist.

The business man who advertises his wares is obeying the same mandate as the bright-colored flower which attracts the pollen-carrying bee. Advertising is wonderfully developed in the plant world. Flowers which depend upon night-flying insects are white or pale, so they may be seen readily by the moths.

Animals and birds advertise. Moose, elk, bears and other supposedly "dumb" creatures have ways of staking their claims and warning intruders away. Birds attract companionship either with bright plumage or by song, or by both methods. Surely men are as intelligent as animals.

Even men who have nothing to sell except their services are consistent advertisers. If an office worker does a notable bit of work, he is tempted to let his employer know who did it. One man advertises his progressive qualities by dressing neatly. Another strives to impress his employer by displaying the thoroughness of his knowledge.

The minister of the gospel mounts the rostrum every Sunday and devotes an hour or two to advertising Christianity by word of mouth. The Roman Catholic church maintains an organization devoted to "propaganda," a word which was in use by that church long before its colloquial meaning was accepted. Practically every church advertises Christianity among heathen.

Newspaper mails have been replete with publicity handouts from government bureaus which sought to advertise their services. The practice of Paul said roughly, "Take your hands off those bags." They walked in silence for half a block. Ann fuming inwardly.

"For your own peace of mind," she said at last, "I'll tell you that you have met one girl who definitely does not want a husband. Are you too stupidly conceited to realize that a girl might take pride in doing something for herself? Can you feature a girl who desires to reflect her own success rather than the defeat of a $15 stock man?" Ann's voice became more heated with every word. He thought every girl wanted to marry him. The idea—

"There may be such a girl," he admitted doubtfully. "So far it has not been my good fortune to meet one."

"You've met one now," she whirled around in front of him, bringing him to a halt. She shook a finger under his nose. "When I marry," she said clearly, "it will be to a man of whom I can be proud, a man who is smarter than I, not a—"

"A stock man," he interrupted grimly. "You said that before."

"And I say it again," she snapped.

"Would you mind giving me a few details of your so-called success?" he inquired coldly.

"Well—I—"

"You make over hats, I believe. You work from dark to dark on old, dirty hats—"

"How do you know?"

"The elves, of course."

"Oh, rubbish. Your particular elf is Clara Brooks and she talks too much."

They were walking again. Paul nodded at a house so much like the one Ann had just left that it might have been there on a living carpet.

"That's your new home," he said. Putting her bags on the porch, he removed his hat. "Good night. Any time I can be of service."

"We don't get along very well, do we, Mr. Hayden?"

"Not very."

"But I do thank you." Ann could be very sweet. She was very sweet then.

"How do you know my name?"

"The same little elf," he laughed. "I believe you are Ann."

"Yes, Ann Brown."

Paul looked down, twisting his hat. "I didn't mean that. The girls want to marry me. It's simply that they seem to be out for husbands—any old husbands." He laughed embarrassedly.

"Well, I'm not."

"In that case—how about a movie some night?"

"I'd like it. Just to prove that I'm harmless, I'll pay my way."

"I'll pay when we go to a movie," he said firmly.

"Are we off on another quarrel?"

"Heaven forbid. May I see you soon?"

"Would tomorrow night be too soon?"

"Stay down town. I'll meet you at the notion counter."

"Lovely."

"Good night, Ann."

"Good night, Paul."

using taxpayers' money to distribute these items became so prevalent that Congress looked into the matter and decided that form of advertising, which it was charged was meant merely to perpetuate jobs for jobholders, was not necessary. A law was enacted making it illegal to use the mails free for such handouts unless such items were requested by the intended recipients. It was a form of advertising. Advertising that entails an item of cost should not be condemned by the job holders who sought to make use of it when it was free.

The warring powers seek constantly to influence neutrals by means of advertising. Paris, London and Berlin reach neutrals in every way possible to present their causes. It is called propaganda, but it is nothing more than advertising of claims even though it may be disguised as news.

For the new deal's cohorts to pounce upon advertising as a needless expense is unjust to advertisers who have no other way to present their goods to the public. The manufacturer of nationally-distributed goods may be located in Boston, but he can appeal to people in Dixon by means of advertising. The manufacturer in Dixon is able to sell to the people of distant states by telling those people of the virtues of his commodity.

Great industries usually are built upon mass production and mass sales which are made possible by advertising, and mass production cuts costs.

No More Tourist Swindles

Canada wants American tourists. She has annually enjoyed an abundance of visitors from "south of the border," and the guests have always contributed handsomely to the maintenance of Dominion economy. But this year, Canada wants Americans worse than ever.

As a lure, the government is going to promise Americans that, insofar as it is possible to prevent it, there will be no swindling. Merchants, banks, hotel keepers and everyone else who has benefited directly from tourist trade have been ordered to pay Americans the full premiums for exchanging United States currency.

Currently, the premium on American dollars varies between 10 and 15 cents. On a $100 vacation, this will add up to a tidy little sum. And if the Canadian government has anything to say about it, Americans are going to get every penny of it. Tourists, used to petty swindles of European shopkeepers who spot all Americans as suckers, will be glad to hear that in Canada, at least, they will be given an even chance.

Dancing Away Your Problems

The heat of tom-toms in the jungle is said to have led many persons to the brink of insanity.

At the Bellevue Psychiatric hospital in Boston, however, psychologists have discovered that jungle drums and music may be the means of leading "problem children" back to normality.

The dances, which the youngsters are urged to join, have revealed many of their inner problems, according to Dr. Lauretta Bender and Miss Franziska Boss, who have been conducting the experiment.

If the jitterbug craze, which is allied to jungle dancing, can help us recover some of the sanity we lost during the past 20 years, maybe there's something in it after all.

Making Americans Quickly

A proposal to simplify the process of naturalizing aliens has been made by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins. Under existing laws, she told the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco, tests for immigrants are too drastic.

She recommended that requirements for "responsible aliens" be relaxed. This would include, Miss Perkins said, literacy tests for elderly aliens.

The millions of Americans out of work could not be expected to take kindly to any plan that would open the gates to a flood of aliens, potential competitors for the few jobs available. After a reasonable number of immigrants have been admitted, it should be the desire of officials everywhere to make them good Americans as soon as possible. Sufficient time must be given them, however, for reflections on the responsibilities of citizenship and to make certain they are fully prepared to relinquish their loyalties to any other countries.

Neddy remarked, tapping gracefully on the wooden floor.

"Teddy fell into step. 'Heavy date,' she echoed."

"They've always got heavy dates," Clara said in an aside.

Flora-belle leaned decoratively against the door casing. "That's a snazzy hat you're wearing, Ann," she said indifferently.

"Thank you—I made it myself," "Snazzy." Then, "Got a steady boy friend?"

"No."

"Like to step out?"

"Why—yes—"

"I'll fix you up." She floated into her apartment and closed the door. Ann looked after her, wishing that she had declined Flora-belle's patronizing kindness. Later she was sure that she should have declined, but that was when Flora-belle kept good her word.

CHAPTER X

Clara said, "This is our place, Ann. Come in and start living with me."

Ann followed her into a small living room. Worn carpet, sagging chairs, limp curtains, grimy walls covered with pictures and evidences of Clara's artistic attempts crowded the room. Artificial flowers, blatantly artificial, sprang from cheap vases and bowls. The pictures were garish and impossible. Little china dogs and cats and elephants littered the tables and window sills. A cot, covered with a pseudo-oriental rug, did duty as aavenport.

Off the living room, was the kitchen, a small cupboard arrangement with doors swinging inward. Through a doorway in another wall, Ann glimpsed a bedroom. In spite of the atrocious color combinations, the place had a homey, pleasant air.

Clara led the way to the bedroom. Ann's quick eye noticed that the bed was a good inch thicker than the one she had left. Clara pulled back a curtain which hung from a shelf. "This is the closet. See—you can have half and two drawers in the dresser. Pretty nice diggins, don't you think?"

They were interrupted by a quick knock on the door. "It's Sam," Clara exclaimed, "my boy friend—the one I told you about." She opened the door to admit a big, good-looking youth who looked most uncomfortable in a necktie and ill-fitting suit.

"Hi, Sport," Clara greeted him. "Come here, Ann, and meet Sam Little. Little—," she laughed.

"Isn't that a name for him?" The young man awkwardly held out his hand and Ann put hers into it. His hand was huge, hard as a table top.

"How do you do," she said.

Clara hustled into her coat. "We're going to the movies. Make yourself at home, Ann."

"I will."

She watched them as they went down the stairs. She saw Sam kiss Clara on the cheek and she smiled a moment, thinking of Clara and Sam? Were they in love? Was that why they had kissed?

Strangely enough, Ann had never been kissed. The reason was quite simple. The land of opportunity while she traveled from one end of the country to the other with Pete, always under the watchful eye of her mother. And there had been no opportunity since.

She thought of Paul Hayden with a quickening of the pulse. Perhaps he would kiss her some day. But no, he was afraid of girls, afraid that one of them might marry him.

Ann went back to the bedroom. She put clean newspapers in the dresser drawers and carefully placed her few belongings in neat piles. Clara's jumbled toilet articles had been moved to one side and she set out her jars and boxes, comb and powder puff. She got the wire hangers from her bag and hung up her dresses and coats.

A warm feeling of home enveloped her. The girls in the hall had been friendly. It was nice to know that Clara would come in later. She had a date for the evening—a date with Paul Hayden. Perhaps life had found her at last.

"Mind if I come in?" It was Flora-belle, still in the orchid capes, still insolently smoking.

"Mind, I should say not. Sit down." Ann came from the kitchen and dropped to a chair, curling one foot under her.

"God, I'm sleepy," Flora-belle groaned, throwing herself among the rainbow hued cushions on the cot, stretching her long, loved body. "Didn't get to bed until 4 this morning."

"Gracious—I'm afraid I couldn't work if I stayed out so late."

Flora-belle said, "Guess you haven't been around much, Ann."

"No—well, in a way, yes. I've lived in almost every city in the United States. I've stayed in the best hotels and—"

"Well, well—," Flora-belle sat up. "Looks as if you're deceiving. I thought you'd come from Yahoo or somewhere. Not that you look like a hick. What are you doing in a dump like this. Lost your cunning?"

"I've traveled with my father. He died a year ago. I've been on my own since."

"Oh, I see," Flora-belle got to her feet, yawning. "Come over and see where I hang out."

"I'll come," Ann said. And Ann followed. Stepping inside Flora-belle's door, her eyes opened wide.

The apartment, architecturally speaking, was like her own, but the furnishings were vastly different. The wall swere pale yellow, the woodwork had been painted silver, the carpet was dove gray. Chromium glittered.

There was a low davenport flanked by two overstuffed chairs and a coffee table with a glass top. Lamps and ash trays and pictures of men stood upon other tables. A radio, encased in aquamarine colored glass, hummed softly. The room was ornate, cheaply and fantastically modern.

"It's—it's very lovely," Ann said.

"I'll do," Flora-belle pushed the bedroom door open and Ann received another shock. The bed was low and wide, it was soft and thick, a velvet cover fell to the floor. The dressing table, a small chest separated by a shelf, held a low an immense circular mirror. There was a gold brocade slipper chair and a wardrobe. The door of the wardrobe stood open and Ann saw rows of gowns, shoes on racks, hats in transparent glass cases. The bed, on a low, chromium table, stood an ivory telephone.

"I'm glad to know all of you," Ann said.

The hall emptied itself into the various doors.

"Gotta dress for a heavy date," Ann's eyes widened. "I can't."

News Behind THE NEWS

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., in reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, March 2—Henry Wallace, the heavy sugar daddy in the new deal, has left a trail of his favorite commodity across the floor of the Senate. It dribbled from an inside hole in his pocket while he was lobbying there for the Hull reciprocal trade program. Now it may be too much to say that the Secretary of Agriculture cut the hole in his pocket deliberately to catch the eyes and noses of the western beet sugar senators, center of the Hull opposition. It would certainly be too much for anyone to charge there was a deal in which Wallace's sugar activities helped persuade the western opposition not to filibuster the vital Hull program—or that he picked up a few voters thereby. But he certainly sweetened the kitty. He definitely cast a candy red herring across the trail upon which the opposition was pursuing Hull.

Here's how!

On the very day the House renewed the Hull program for three years and delivered it to the mercies of a wrathful Senate opposition, Wallace decided the foreign import quotas on sugar needed revising. He had proclaimed such figures only two months before. At that time he had computed American consumption at 6,700,000 tons and arranged quotas for the year on that basis. But on February 23 he decided he had been hasty and rearranged his estimates so as to cut down foreign importations by 93,872 tons, thereby causing rejoicing in the domestic beet sugar belt which will profit from the rearrangement through expected increased prices and greater allocations.

The timing was unusual. Last year Wallace made a revision of the previous December estimates but not until July. His haste this year is ascribed, within his department, to the fact that his experts hurriedly composed the December estimates in order to meet a January 1 deadline and were faulty in their figuring.

Everyone involved seems satisfied now, particularly Hull.

A group of the biggest and best bankers of New York stepped into town this week in the raiment of the invisible man. They arranged and held a meeting with the top fiscal officials of the administration, headed by Treasury Secretary Morgenthau and Chairman Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board.

Not only their presence but the subject matter of their consultation has remained invisible even to the secondary officials in the treasury and FRB. It is understood to have concerned the amount of government bonds held by the nation's banks and the increasing percentage of Federal Housing Administration foreclosures.

The bankers apparently would like to have the government cooperate in passing on to public investors some of the government securities they now hold. Also they wanted to interest the government in losses they are suffering in connection with FHA. Government now guarantees to to 90 per cent of FHA loans, but after foreclosure the banks have found themselves unable to resell seized properties at a satisfactory price.

There were 753 foreclosures last year, a small number, but it was twice as many as in the entire previous 3-year history of FHA. Naturally the number is increasing.

The subjects may remain invisible indefinitely as government officials took them under advisement.

State department is moving quietly to tighten up on our tin, rubber and copper leaks to Germany through Russia. Shortly after the answer I only make fifteen a week."

"It isn't what you make. It's how you manage."

Ann looked dazed. "If you know the answer I wish you'd pass it on to me."

"Get men to give you what you want."

"I don't know any men. Anyway, I wouldn't."

"I said I'd fix you up," Flora-belle looked Ann up and down, her eyes drowsy and speculative.

"I went with a rich guy once," she said. "He bought this stuff for me because he said I deserved beautiful surroundings. He had the place redecorated and paid Mrs. Follet to have the bathroom put in."

Ann looked at her new friend with faint suspicion. "Wasn't that a great deal to accept from a man?"

Flora-belle started to laugh, then thought better of it. "We were to be married," she said. "He was getting the place ready for us."

"And did something happen to him?"

"Yes, something happened."

"Oh, I'm sorry."

"You needn't be." The telephone rang and Flora-belle hurried to the guest out. "Come every few minutes," she said.

Ann went back to the worn carpet and artificial flowers. She sat down and thought for a long time.

Committees of Rock River Soc. of Engineers

Secretary A. H. Ferger of the Rock River chapter of the Illinois Society of Engineers today announced the committee appointments which have been made by the newly elected president, Robert Brewster. The Rock River chapter is rated as one of the most active in Illinois with a membership which is nearing the 100 mark.

President Brewster's appointments are as follows: Committee on coordination and cooperation, (Duties as specified in the constitution of the society, and the additional duty to investigate unethical practices and recommend action by the chapter); D. A. Branigan, Dixon, chairman; A. A. Lundgren, Rockford; R. H. Anderson, Dixon; W. J. P. Gibbs, Rockford.

Program committee, to arrange chapter meeting programs—H. F. Walder, Dixon, chairman; C. F. Andrews, Dixon; A. N. Richardson, Dixon; C. G. Popma, Dixon; W. F. Hauck, Morrison.

Membership committee, to investigate applications for membership in the chapter and recommend action—R. G. Heck, Dixon, chairman; W. T. Neiman, Freeport; W. D. MacLeod, Dixon.

Publicity committee, to disseminate information activities to engineers within the chapter area and to arrange for proper publicity concerning the meetings of the chapter and the activities of the members; the chairman to be ex-officio, a member of the state society's publicity committee.

James P. Palmer, chairman; E. M. Mundhenke, Rockford; E. M. Brown, Princeton; M. M. Memier, Dixon.

Annual engineers and contractors picnic committee, to plan and execute the annual picnic—Fred W. Leake, Jr., Dixon, chairman; Charles N. A. Richards, Dixon; W. R. Hardy, Dixon; O. B. Gerlach, Dixon; H. H. Bowen, Dixon; R. N. Lyons, Dixon; Fred W. Shappert, Jr., Belvidere; Robert H. Scallan, Dixon.

Membership drive committee, chairman is ex-officio member of state membership drive committee, northern division, (A. H. Ferger, Dixon, being chairman of the state committee); W. O. Skinner, Princeton; S. E. Johnston, Prophetstown; V. E. Hopper, Ohio; H. A. Reidesel, Rockford; R. S. Hanson, Savanna; D. S. Kingman, Sterling; F. E. Peterson, DeKalb.

Secretary Ferger today released for publication a copy of the resolution which was adopted at the annual meeting last week, objecting to the retaining of a licensed architect by Henry county, to ferred to the general public until the morning of each day's performance, which will allow mail orders from surrounding cities to be filled from this choice section. It is fully expected that capacity will prevail nightly until March 30. Theatre patrons who wish to see "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" are asked to make their reservations as early as possible for this great American drama.

Seiden, if ever before, has a play scored a greater national success than this sterling drama having to do with the early life of the Great Emancipator. Leaders in every walk of life have declared "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" should be seen by every man, woman and child in the country, because, besides its high amusement value it is also of enormous importance to the American spirit so the producers agreed the tour should embrace as many cities as possible. It has therefore been necessary to limit the Chicago engagement to 12 weeks.

The original Chicago booking was for half that length of time but the demand for seats required an extension and so with the concluding performance on Saturday night, March 30, 99 performances have been given, which, records for a dramatic production. The tour of "Abe Lincoln in Illinois" will extend into the Pacific Coast. Chicago is the only city in this territory to be visited. Arrangements have therefore been made to give special attention to the tour of town patrons. Seats have been made available for the entire remainder of the engagement and a section of the house for every remaining performance will be sold exclusively through out of town mail orders. This allotment of seats will not be of-

Former Assistant U. S. Attorney Tells of Having Refused Bribe

Chicago, March 2—(AP)—Daniel D. Glasser, defending himself against a charge of conspiring to "fix" bootleg cases when he was an assistant Federal prosecutor, testified Friday he once turned down a $10,000 bribe.

He said the bribe was offered by Frank Hodorowicz, who called at his office in July, 1938, after Hodorowicz and his two brothers had been indicted for violation of the liquor laws.

"He told me he wanted to plead guilty, and asked me what I would do for him if he did so," Glasser related. "I told him, 'Frank you have been getting away with murder, but you made a mistake this time and sold some liquor to government agents. Nothing can help you'."

At that point in the conversation, Glasser said, Hodorowicz asked him: "Don't you like money? I am willing to spend $10,000." Glasser quoted himself as replying: "You can spend $10,000, but you are still going to the penit

GOING TOO FAR

The boogie at the high school gymnasium these nights is going a little too far. First of all, the officials are doing the job in the best way they know how and furthermore, each team on the floor has an equal right to win. You can't preach sportsmanship in the face of hisses . . . that goes for Dixon as hosts and others as guests.

GIVE US A RING

Young Bill Callahan, Evening Telegraph newsboy, will again be at his post tonight so that you may call for scores on the local regional tournament if you are unable to get there. Last night over 80 calls were counted by fans eager for news of the semi-finals.

ATTENDS BASEBALL SCHOOL

Merle Snodgrass, a member of the state championship Ogle county Farm Bureau baseball team and son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Snodgrass of Rockvale township, is at Hot Springs, Arkansas where he is enrolled at Roy Doan's baseball school. The school is the foremost of its kind in the country and is manned by big league players who are glad to pass on their prowess in the national game to the younger generation.

GAME AT STERLING

The St. Mary's grade school team of Dixon will play tomorrow afternoon at Sterling.

STERLING PERCENTAGES

In Sterling's 28 to 19 victory over Rock Falls last night the winners made 10 of their 71 attempted shots for a percentage of .141. Rock Falls made 6 out of 40 shots for a percentage of .150. These compare with Dixon's .309 percentage in the Prophetstown game.

STARS AMONG THE ALSO-RANS

Excluding the finalists in tonight's Dixon regional tournament we'd like to cite for unofficial honors the members of the other participants for an all-star team of visitors: Warren Zimmerman of Franklin Grove, forward; Roman of Prophetstown, forward; George of Rock Falls, center; Heckman of Franklin Grove, guard; and Ross of Walnut, guard.

State Regional Tournaments Hit Final Stages; Mendota is Dropped

The heated basketball race, now rivaling the European war and politics in conversation, continues to burn brightly and one by one the less efficient gets singed and fall by the wayside.

Two weeks from now the mad scramble will hit the state finals and another champion will be crowned. The race, still young, finds most of the favorites still in the field and Rockford, defending champion, advanced to the finals of the Belvidere regional last night with an easy 51 to 21 decision over Monroe Center. The champs engage Belvidere, host team, tonight in the finals.

The regional champions decided last night were Cairo, Jerseyville, (which defeated Rockhouse by one point), Normal Community, Bloom of Chicago Heights, Decatur, Flora, Freeport, Kewanee, LaSalle-Peru, Metropolis, Albion, Paxton, (which upset a strong Urbana team, 35-34) Milton, Shelbyville, Mattoon, Vandalia and Bluffs.

On Home Courts
Nine of the winners took up honors on their home courts.

Tonight the tournaments will fire away on other fronts and in this neighborhood the big attraction will be the Dixon-Sterling battle here. Oregon will meet Mt. Morris at the former city, Moline meets Rock Island there, Mt. Carroll and Morrison will clash at Mt. Carroll, Sycamore and Waterman meet at DeKalb after the host team, a member of the North Central conference, was eliminated 28 to 19 by the Waterman aggregation last night.

At Mendota, the host team lost, 46 to 28, to the LaSalle-Peru visitors in the finals at Mendota.

Players Chosen For Baseball's Benefit Game

Tampa, Fla., March 2.—(AP)—Seven American League players and two National Leaguers were unanimous choices on the all-star teams, announced today for the Tampa game dedicated to the Finnish relief fund.

The National's unanimous contributions were outfielders Joe Medwick of St. Louis and Morris Aronovich, Philadelphia. The Americans chosen by all participating 46 baseball writers of major league cities were Pitchers Bobby Feller, Cleveland, and Emil Leonard, Washington; Infielders Jimmy Fox, Boston and Joe Gordon, New York; Outfielders Joe DiMaggio, New York, and Ted Williams, Boston; and Catcher Bill Dickey, New York.

Manager Bill McKenchie of Cincinnati will pilot the Nationals in the March 17 contest. Manager Joe McCarthy of the World Champion Yankees will lead the Americans.

Mt. Morris 14; Lee Center 11.GAMES TONIGHT
Lee Center vs. Rochelle, 7:30. (Consolation).
Oregon vs. Mt. Morris, 8:30. (Championship).

The Oregon Hawks who fought every step of the way to the title of the Rock River conference in a hotly contested season, last night proved their title was no fluke as they trounced Rochelle's Hubs for the right to appear tonight on their own floor in the championship game with Mt. Morris.

The Mounders earned their eligibility by losing the first-rate Lee Center team, 14 to 11. Tonight's final game will pit the first and second place teams of the Rock River league together and should make for a serious battle. In the season just ended the Mounders split the season with the champions with each team winning once. In the first meeting Mt. Morris captured a 45 to 33 victory and in the second the Hawks eked out a 17 to 15 win.

Score Early Lead
In the Oregon victory last night the hosts of the tournament thumped the Hubs with a 16 to 3 lead in the first period and led 21 to 9 at the intermission. Each team counted four points in the third period and Oregon surged into the windup with nine points to the five by Rochelle.

Leading the Hawks in scoring was John Franklin who finished the league season as the highest scorer. In the game last night he made two buckets and three free throws for seven points. Engstrom, Young and Pryor were close behind with six points each. Schoonhoven and Tigan each scored five points for the losers.

The Hubs will meet Lee Center tonight in the consolation game at 7:30 o'clock.

Armstrong and Garcia Battle To Standstill

Los Angeles, March 2.—(AP)—Welterweight Champion Henry Armstrong's quest of Cefterino Garcia's middleweight title is still a 50-50 wager and take your pick.

The two fought each other to a standstill in 10 rounds of bloody combat last night before a paid attendance of 16,228, and Referee George V. Blake called it a draw. The fight drew a gross gate of $65,953.

Brim-full of action from start to finish, the draw decision virtually spoiled the end of Hammerin' Armstrong's hope of acquiring a fourth title in his career, although a re-match might be made some time later.

Garcia, the Filipino who is recognized as the middleweight champ in California and New York, weighed 153½ and Armstrong 142.

Arguments raged on today over the outcome. George Parnassus, the Filipino's manager, openly charged that Armstrong waged a "dirty fight," and said illegal use of his shoulders and head robbed Garcia of a chance for a clear-cut victory.

Had Negro Reeling
Many ring-side thought Garcia earned it with his clean, shocking uppercuts to the head that twice had the negro laid reeling backwards, but just as many gave the fight to Armstrong for his usual relentless, ever-punching aggressiveness.

Blood flowed from the third round on—Garcia suffered an eye cut—his corner claimed it was butted—and Armstrong's mouth was cut in the same round and his left eye was shut tight for the last three frames.

The two lost no time getting to work. They started in a few seconds after the first bell and 10 rounds later they were standing in Garcia's corner, toe to toe, still whaling away with all the power and punches they could muster.

Referee Blake said afterward that Armstrong's shoulders tactics counted heavily against him.

Oregon high school's Hawks, winners of the Rock River conference title with 10 victories and only two defeats, are shown here. From left to right, they are: (top row) Coach Arthur Driver, Bud Engstrom, Robert Pelsma, Don Young, Richard Ferguson; (front row) David Maxwell, John Franklin, Gene Pryor, Edward Gecan, Robert Thomas.

During the conference season the Hawks scored 405 points as compared to 289 and John Franklin topped the list of league players with a total of 117 points.

The Oregon champions are current hosts in the regional tournament and will meet Mt. Morris, second place team in the conference, for the championship tonight.

Kettle Will Boil Over Tonight as Dukes And Sterling Battle Here

Traditional Rivals Earn Right to Play in Finals by Defeating Rock Falls and Prophetstown in Semi-Finals

GAMES LAST NIGHT
Sterling 28; Rockfalls 19.
Dixon 51; Prophetstown 24.GAMES TONIGHT
8:00—Rock Falls vs. Prophetstown (Consolation).
9:00—Dixon vs. Sterling (Championship).

Until the finals tonight, the games of the Dixon regional tournament have been like so many logs on the fire to heat the kettle which boils over tonight with the meeting of Sterling and the Dukes for the championship.

Last night the Brandau-men won the right to appear in the windup by defeating Rock Falls, 28 to 19, and Dixon trounced Prophetstown, 51 to 24. Both winners appeared to be saving their best efforts for tonight and there's little doubt that each team will be called upon for top-notch performance in the classic of the year.

If either Dixon or Sterling should advance to the state, neither will fight a luster battle than tonight's scheduled for 9 o'clock.

Rockets Pull Surprise
In the first game of the semi-finals last night the Sterling team had a scare thrown into them by their intra-city rivals who fought them every step of the way and halted Sterling's large scoring damages.

The Rockets battled through a uphill struggle and their chief fault was their over-anxiousness to win which resulted in costly fouls. On a total of 16 infractions by the Rockets they lost two of their most aggressive players, George and Edeus and Sterling collected eight precious free throws.

The Rockets experienced some heart-breaking bounce-in-bounce-out long shots and the Sterling club missed many a perfect set up under the basket and were forced to resort to their mid-court shots which, on the whole, were excellent.

First Quarter
The first quarter of the game saw Sterling capturing only a 6 to 3 lead, as something of a surprise to both teams and the spectators who had expected more of the Brandau-men. Rock Falls, however, was playing possession of the ball in a defensive style which clipped the Sterling bucket-makers.

Wolf counted with two beautiful long shots and Dunn scored under the rim. Rock Falls collected three counters with Robinson's free throw and George's under-the-basket shot.

Two field goals by Ridge, both long set shots, and one sensation long delivery by Wolf gave Sterling a 12 to 11 lead at the intermission. Rock Falls came to within striking distance of a tie with a free throw apiece by George, Hunsberger, Higgins and Edeus. The latter scored on a mid-court set shot and Hunsberger also dropped in a long swish.

Eight free throws by Sterling and Ridge's field goal in the third quarter was the turning point of the game as the Rockets were held to one bucket apiece by Higgins and Robinson.

Steadman Scores
Steadman, Sterling's "long drink" of water" played his position under the basket in the final period and snagged the long passes to leap up and tip the ball through for three buckets and the winners' only counts of the canto.

Barnhart dropped in two free throws for the Rockets and Hunsberger scored his second long shot of the game.

Tonight the Rockets will meet Prophetstown in the game for con-

KNOW YOUR PLAYERS

Followers of the North Central conference this past season have been almost of one mind in their selection of Bill Shultz, a member of the Dixon champions, as an all-conference guard.

Bill, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shultz, came to Dixon last year from he had given early promise of his basketball prowess. As a member of the Dukes' aggregation he has fulfilled early predictions with a smooth and deliberate style seldom seen among "growing youths."

Bill's ability is natural and his rebounding, ball-handling and passing have been a pleasure to watch. No high scorer, he has, nevertheless, been responsible for many Dixon buckets with his excellent free passes to his mates.

It was young Shultz who shared with Bill Witzleb the honor of winning the Belvidere game there last month when he fed the ball to Witzleb for the winning bucket in the overtime.

A junior in the local high school, Shultz should be one of the mainstays of next year's team just as he has been this season.

He tips the beam at 184 pounds and adds 6 feet one inch to the Dukes' height.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

ACHIEVEMENT

It is the old lesson—a worthy purpose, patient energy for its accomplishment, a resoluteness undaunted by difficulties, and then success.

—Puncheon.

No wind makes for him that hath no intended port to sail into.

—Montaigne.

A purpose underlies character, culture, position, attainment of every sort.

—Munger.

The devotion of thought to an honest achievement makes the achievement possible.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

Nothing is achieved before it be thoroughly attempted.

—Sir Philip Sidney.

If you wish success in life, make perseverance your bosom friend, experience your wise counselor, caution your elder brother, and hope your guardian genius.

—Addison.

Maritime Labor Board Petitions Congress for Aid

Washington, March 2—(AP)—The Maritime Labor Board urged congress Friday to prolong and expand its mediation work and deny government ship subsidies to employers who engage in practices outlawed by the Wagner Act.

The denial of ship subsidies was one of 20 proposals advanced by the board in response to a congressional request for a plan which would provide a permanent labor policy in the maritime field.

Other proposals would: Give the board the power to determine employee representation questions now exercised by the National Labor Relations board.

Clarify the seamen's right to strike in a domestic harbor.

Extend to the seagoing personnel of Maritime Commission ships the right of collective bargaining now denied by the commission on the ground that seamen on such vessels are government employees.

Exclude such agencies as the U. S. Conciliation Service from stepping into maritime labor disputes unless invited by the board.

The denial of ship subsidies to Wagner Act violators is similar to a plan advanced last year by the C. I. O. leadership to deny any form of government contract or loan to employers held guilty of engaging in unfair labor practices.

"Special Inducement"

The board offered the proposal as a "special inducement" to the beneficiaries of governmental aid to obey the Wagner Act. The government pays out ship subsidies to aid construction and operation.

"In the interests of orderly labor relations in the maritime industry," the agency added, "the board believes it is imperative to stop effectively any attempt by unfair maritime employers to engage in practices inimical to the rights of maritime employees."

The board was established in 1938 and will go out of existence in June, 1941, unless congress continues it.

The board said it did not take the view that special governmental mediation in the maritime industry will always be needed.

"Such an agency will continue to be needed," it said "until such time as the maritime employers and employees have demonstrated their ability to protect their respective interests without jeopardizing the interest of the public through needless interruptions to the free flow of water-borne commerce x x x."

From January, 1936, to June, 1939, the board reported, there were 331 ship strikes involving 31,146 workers, and 115 longshoremen's strikes involving 84,173.

As additional steps to strengthen the agency and make voluntary mediation more effective, the board suggested the creation of adjustment boards and paid umpires, and the extension of its jurisdiction over all maritime workers, including those engaged in ship repair.

Finland Speeds Plans to Spend 10-Million Loan

Washington, March 2—(AP)—Finland sped arrangements today to buy gasoline, oil, grain and other vital supplies with the $20,000,000 credit which was allocated to her by the Export-Import Bank yesterday even before President Roosevelt had signed legislation which made possible the loan.

Hjalmar J. Procope, the Finnish minister, said at a press conference that the supplies would be of great assistance to his country in withstanding the Russian invasion, and that orders would be placed immediately.

Receiving the newsmen after a long-distance telephone talk with Prime Minister Rytty in Helsinki, the minister assured them gravely that Finland has far from defeated.

"When the war started," he said, "most people thought we would be beaten within two or three days. We've been fighting three months now and we'll fight on, confident that help will come."

"We need men, artillery, planes and ammunition—and we're thankful to get them where we can—but don't think that because we've suffered a few reverses that Finland is beaten. Finland is a land of 70,000 lakes and we'll fight at every one!"

Col. Per. Zilliacus, the Finnish military attaché, added that the invaders "have an even harder job ahead as far as terrain is concerned."

Furthermore, he said, spring would provide new difficulties for the Russians. With the breaking up of ice the last of April, Finland's roads will be virtually impassable until the middle of May.

$1,000 IN REFUNDS

Springfield, Ill., March 2—(AP)—Land in southern and central Illinois whose value was enhanced by its proximity to oil fields has spared many an old person the necessity of accepting financial assistance from federal and state agencies, Fletcher C. Kettle, state superintendent of old age assistance, said today.

Kettle reported that $1,000 in refunds were received during February in Fayette county alone from aged persons or their children who obtained money through oil leases or sales of royalties or land.

One ton of sugar beets will produce about 240 pounds of sugar.
